About Green Power Choice:

- The program uses Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs), which represent the environmentally-friendly aspects of energy generated from renewable resources.
- These RECs allow you to access carbon-free energy without the upfront capital, regular maintenance and risks associated with installing rooftop solar equipment and other resources.
- Energy for Green Power Choice is produced at locations across the southeast, including solar arrays, hydroelectric dams and a specialized facility that converts decomposing garbage (landfill gas) to electricity.
